Bonuses usually come with wagering requirements, which means that you have to bet a certain amount of money before you can withdraw any winnings that you make with the bonus.

Wagering requirements can vary a lot. Some are as low as 1x, while others can be as high as 30x. It's important to read the terms and conditions of any bonus offer carefully.

Some of the most common types of bonuses are:

- Deposit bonuses: A percentage of your deposit is added to your account.
- Free bets: A certain amount of money is given to you to use on a specific bet.
- Matched deposits: The bookmaker matches your deposit up to a certain amount.
- Reload bonuses: A bonus given to you when you make a second deposit.
- Referral bonuses: A bonus given to you when you refer a friend to the bookmaker.

It's important to remember that bonuses are not free money. They are given to you as a reward for betting with the bookmaker. Always gamble responsibly and never bet more than you can afford to lose.
