Terror is usually described as the feeling of dread and anticipation that precedes the horrifying experience. By contrast: horror is the feeling of revulsion that follows a frightening sight or sound; or, alternatively, horror is the terror - the feeling of being threatened by something that is unknown and tempts a reader to become cautious and with anticipation, while marches the reader through a landscape of mistakes and atrocities. What is the difference between horror and terrorism? mytutorsco/uk : answer ; A-Level! Who comes to the Gothic literature?
