Cyber Bet is an Android application with which bettors can place bets and follow the progress of matches. To use the utility, it is necessary to register and deposit the game account. There is an opportunity to get a bonus from the bookmaker's office.

Sports betting

The app allows users to predict the results of sports matches and championships. If the prediction comes true, the player receives a reward.

The home page of Cyber Bet contains a list of current events. It is possible to choose the discipline of interest in the main menu. Similar to Zulabet, this bookmaker allows you to bet on soccer, hockey, basketball, volleyball and other sports.

Action line

The action line means the totality of all the outcomes of a particular match. Its completeness depends on the popularity of the tournament among bettors. The top games offered about 100 events.

Players can bet on the total number of goals, exact score, the victory of one of the teams and so on. It is also possible to bet on the statistical indicators of individual athletes. For the convenience of users, filters are provided to help you select the desired outcome.

In live mode, the number of markets is less than in pre-match mode. During the tournament, users can follow the game in the application. Live video streaming is available.
