

termos apostas esportivas

You are just looking for your team to cover the spread or you are looking for a team to win the game. The sportsbook sets the number for the individual game.

Each team's record is based on the total number of games played in the season. The winning percentage is calculated by dividing the number of wins by the total number of games. Teams finishing 7th through 10th in each conference compete in the play-in tournament to determine the final two playoff seeds. NBA playoffs - Wikipedia
