Aria casino is so tied up with the City Center hotel/stores etc that so metimes it is very difficult to find your way around, in part because peo ple walking on the strip often by accident cut through the casino. Worth a look Also, if you have not previously visited LV or not visited in recent years, you will find si gnificant changes everywhere. For example, you must pay to park at a hotel ca sino in most cases, such as all MGM properties, and it is not cheap For the most part, the era of inexpensive food is long gone Even in the lower end casino/hotels a fountain soda is usually at least $4. The people who operate the bus on the strip have made it more difficult to you. One bus driver said it was $8 to get on, exact change. Another ti me the bus
"coordinator" at a stop said I must have a transi t card bought from a machine, which of course, is almost impossible to get to work or to figure ou t the options. I liked it when you got on the bus and put you cash in the slot.
The cab companies complain that Uber e tc. have taken over 25% of the taxi business, yet th e taxi company will not let you call them to pick you up or to schedule a pick up, such as for the airport, if your hotel has a 24 hr cab stand (most do) but there is not alwa ys a cab available late at night or early morning.
The casinos have increased the variety of table games, but t he cost to play is often a $15 minimum, and to play the game correctly, t he bet usually should be 2 or 3 times the minimum.
The price of shows continues to skyrocket, and then try to get a reasonably price snack---$8 popcorn at Mi rage---where you also pay a ticketmaster service fee of at least $12 even if you buy you ticket as a walk up to the Mirage box office.
And finally, of course, is the "resort fee" you pay for your room, as much as $10 a night at most hotels. So when you are comp
